SUNDAY BLUE LAW IS INTRODUCED IN THE LEGISLATURE

Senator James MacMurray Would Stop all Forms of Commercial Entertainment and Amusement on Sunday—Author of Measure is Trustee of Illinois Woman's College

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—A bill which would stop every form of commercialized entertainment or amusement on Sunday in Chicago and throughout the state was introduced in the legislature today by James MacMurray, state senator of Chicago.

The measure, which has the support of the Chicago Church Federation, the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist and Lord's Day Alliance denominations, would forbid every form of amusement for which an admission fee is charged, including the movies and baseball.

Only sacred concerts or services of a moral or religious nature conducted by religious organizations would be permitted under the terms of the proposed enactment.

Baseball, pool and billiard games, dance pavilions, theaters, carnivals, fairs and any kindred pastimes are proscribed and all who promote, conduct or participate in any such enterprises are subject to fines, imprisonment or revocation of license. Establishments where violations are proved would be closed for all purposes for one month.

REPUBLICANS IN CONFERENCE ON CAMPAIGN OF 1924

Upham Talks Over Preliminary Plans with Republican Leaders

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—Preliminary discussion relative to the 1924 convention city of the Republican party together with the making of plans to wipe out the remainder of the deficit incurred by the Republicans in the 1920 campaign and a survey of the general political situation constitute the outstanding developments of a series of conferences with Republican leaders concluded here tonight by Fred W. Upham, treasurer of the Republican national committee.

Participants in the conference with Mr. Upham included John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican National committee who returned to Washington today after a trip abroad, Secretaries Weeks and Davis, Rush L. Holland, assistant attorney general and others prominent in the councils of the party. Mr. Upham, during his two-day stay in the capital also has had two conferences with President Harding but at these, politics have been entered upon, it was explained, only in a general way.

The discussions which have been in progress and which will be continued by Mr. Upham tomorrow in New York with Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman for New York, and William H. Hays, former national chairman, are understood from some of those who saw the Republican treasurer to have developed:

That consideration now is being given to six cities, Chicago, Kansas City, San Francisco, Cleveland, Washington and Buffalo as the site for the 1924 convention. That the deficit of approximately $1,700,000 resulting from the 1920 campaign has been reduced to about $300,000 and that steps have been taken which it is hoped by party leaders will wipe it out completely by June 1.

The party leaders expect that the fortunes of the Republican party in 1924 may turn largely on the general business conditions obtaining during the next nineteen months.

BUSINESS CAUSE OF ALL WARS—BULLARD

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Not a pretty Greek woman carried off, but fine Greek business cut off by the Trojans, caused the siege of Troy and protection of business has caused all other wars, Major General Robert L. Bullard, declared in an address here today before the Mid-Day Luncheon club. General Bullard was commander of an army corps in the World war and is now in command of the second army corps area.

General Bullard said business was the cause of all wars. It was this that sent Alexander into war all the way from Europe to India, he said and it is the same business he declared that today holds Greece and Turk and Frenchmen and Britons in an unending, wrangle of business conferences. Referring to recent conferences in the United States army, he urged the people of America not to let the country abandon its own and your defenses.

HARDING'S FATHER PRAISES LEE AND JEFFERSON DAVIS

Lee Greatest American General—Jeff
One of Greatest Statesmen

(By The Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, La., April 12.—General William B. Haldeman, of Louisville, Ky., was elected commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans at the closing business session of the annual reunion here today, and Memphis, Tenn., was selected as the 1924 reunion city.

Dr. George Harding, of Marion, Ohio, father of the president, spoke to the veterans twice today. He declared he considered Lee the greatest of American generals and Jeff Davis one of the country's greatest statesmen. He said he felt very kindly toward the south inasmuch as his grandmother was a cousin of the mother of Jefferson Davis.

After thanking the veterans for the manner in which he had received him he added:

"I want to thank the southern people, too, for the kindness with which they have treated my son. The south never had a better friend than Warren G. Harding."

Dr. Harding was called to the platform again later when a daughter of the confederacy, bearing a huge silk confederate flag announced that he had expressed a desire for one. The emblem, the "Stars and Bars" was presented to him and in expressing his thanks he told the veterans he knew they had stood by it and that "if I had been down here I suppose, I too, would have been loyal to it."

Pandemonium reigned at one stage of the afternoon session when a veteran with long snow white hair and a beard handed to the secretary a resolution, after declaring that the ranks of the gray and blue were thinning fast, and that animosity long since had ceased to exist would have ordered the appointment of a committee of three confederate veterans to meet a similar committee from the Grand Army of the Republic to perfect arrangements for joint reunions in the future.

Shouts of "not in a thousand years," rang out on all sides, hundreds howled and scores leaped to their feet to add emphasis to their protest. The resolution was tabled without even a second.

EQUAL DIVISION OF PROPERTY AND MONEY ADVOCATED

Women Voters at Des Moines So Decide After Debate

(By The Associated Press)
DES MOINES, April 12.—Laws should be enacted compelling women and men to share equally all money and property, acquired after marriage, the National League of Women Voters decided here this afternoon after the most heated debate of the convention.

The recommendation that the league urge the enactment of such laws was contained in the unified program of activities and policies for the coming year. It was the only means in the entire program which occasioned debate. The other recommendations including the one on international affairs were unanimously adopted in what a few of the delegates declared was the steam roller fashion.

Opponents of the proposed uniform laws concerning women argued there were too many industrial laws in the various states.

Supporters of the regulation declared that the proposed laws would be more beneficial than injurious to women and after an hour of debate the measure went thru with the rest of the program intact.

JOLIET BREWERY IS SEIZED BY AGENTS

CHICAGO, April 12.—The brewery and plant of the Porter Products company of Joliet, were seized by federal agents today and armed guards were played around the property.

The warrants were issued for Thomas McFarland, brother of "Paddy" McFarland, the pugilist who formerly owned the brewery and N. D. Scheidt, alleged owner of the Porter Products company. The latter concern has been accused in a number of confessions of Joliet beer runners according to federal agents.

The seizure followed a recent declaration of war on "higher ups" who have violated the prohibition laws by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson.

CANADIAN GRAIN THRU U. S. PORTS

Ottawa, April 12.—Sixty-five per cent of Canadian grain exported goes thru United States ports, Dr. Murray McLaren, conservative member for St. John, N. B., declared in an address to the house of commons today. This condition would not satisfy Canadian ambitions for shipping independence, he said.

Colonel Hunter Only Witness Yesterday

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Declaration that Adjutant General Carlos E. Black, when informed by his personal officer, Colonel Sam Hunter, June 21, that serious trouble was impending near Herrin, Ill., replied: "Let them damn fools go to it," was made by the colonel today at the Herrin inquiry.

In direct contradiction to testimony yesterday of the adjutant general, Colonel Hunter asserted that he repeatedly asked his superior to send troops that bloodshed might be averted. Even as late as 3 p. m. Wednesday, June 21, a short time after two union men were slain, according to the colonel, the dispatch of troops to Herrin would have prevented further bloodshed.

General Black testified he had received no request from any source at any time for troops in Williamson county.

Colonel Hunter declared he requested troops during every telephone conversation with the general and he also transmitted to him requests for militia from W. J. Lester, president of the Southern Illinois Coal company and C. K. McDowell, superintendent of the company's mine who was slain June 22.

After the alleged remark of Black's was mentioned by Colonel Hunter another sensation came when he declared in answer to questions to Representative Michael L. Igoe, Democrat, Chicago, that General Black recently asked him to change and revise his written report of the rioting made July 5.

"I have a copy of your report here," Igoe told Hunter. "Has anyone ever asked you to change it or revise it in any way?"

"Yes sir."

"Who was it?"

"General Black, he asked me if I'd change my report."

"What reply did you make?" questioned Igoe.

"I said I'd give his request due consideration."

"Have you changed the report?"

"No sir."

Pursuing the matter further Mr. Igoe obtained a statement from the colonel that General Black's request had been made a week or ten days—possibly two weeks—after the house ordered investigation of the failure to send troops to Williamson county.

Today's session of the house of representatives committee of seven which is investigating the rioting, consumed three hours and ten minutes.

Colonel was the only witness. Adjournment was taken at 3:40 p. m. until next Wednesday.

Chairman McCarthy said the late developments gave the committee needed information on which it could proceed and that at the next meeting the members would decide on future witnesses and procedure in the light of the new testimony.

Questioned first for more than an hour by the chairman, Colonel Hunter told his activities from Saturday, June 17, when he had his first intimation that trouble might break out near Herrin momentarily, until the following Thursday night when the colonel said he wired Governor Small at Waukegan that he believed the crisis was over.

AN APPROPRIATION OF $600,000 ASKED FOR PAYING BONUS

Board Requires That Amount to Cover Expenses

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—An appropriation of $600,000 to meet the expenses of paying the Illinois Soldier Bonus will be asked of the legislature by the service recognition board decided at a meeting today.

A bill providing for this fund will be introduced in the house of representatives next week and the board will ask that it be rushed thru with all speed.

Members of the board consisting of Governor Len Small, Adjutant General Carlos E. Black and State Treasurer Oscar Nelson met in the office of the governor and passed on the work of details incident to the work of paying what will be the largest soldier bonus of any state in the union. The form of the bond was determined and it was said the bonds will cost 14 cents a piece to print. They will be in denominations of $100 and up.

The emergency appropriation of $62,500 placed at the disposal of the board when it was created has been expended. Adjutant General Black said it is probable another emergency fund will be sought to carry the board's work up to July 1st.

The bill providing for the issue of $55,000,000 of bonds of the state to raise the bonus money is now before the house having been introduced yesterday by Representative Dahlberg.

WILL SOON HOLD MUSICAL LEADERSHIP

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—America is rapidly preparing to witness the largest leadership from Europe. It was implied by some of America's outstanding musicians in addresses before the National Musical Supervisors' conference here today.

W. Otto Messner of Milwaukee was elected president of the association. Other officers are: George Oscar Bowen, Ann Archer, Michigan, vice president; Winnifred Smith, Cleveo, Ill., secretary; P. D. Hayden, Keokuk, Iowa, auditor.

Detroit and Des Moines are seeking next year's convention but the meeting place will not be announced for several months.

OWSLEY PREDICTS PASSAGE OF BILL

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, April 12.—Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion in a statement here today declared that the national soldiers' bonus bill will be passed by the next Congress.

Commander Owsley, here to make an address tomorrow said that a canvass of the next Congress has shown the legion that there are enough votes to put the bonus bill over.

"Then it will go to the president for approval or veto," he said, "and I am inclined to think he will give it his O. K. but if he does not we have four more than enough votes to pass it over his veto."

SENATOR BORAH MAKES REPLY TO SPEECH OF CECIL

Says Place to Work for Peace is Europe
Not United States

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 12.—Senator Borah of Idaho, replying here tonight to the recent league of nations speeches of Lord Robert Cecil, declared his conviction that no peace league can function for peace, until it has been outlawed as an institution. The present league, said the irreconcilable leader, not only had failed to make war a crime, but had been dominated by governments which had convinced the American people they do not "want peace upon any terms compatible with equality and justice."

He added that the proper field for dissemination of a gospel of peace was the old world and not the new. "It may seem harsh," said Senator Borah who spoke at a banquet of the American Paper & Pulp association, "to say that the governments of Europe do not want peace upon terms compatible with equality and justice between the nations. The record is there and any one can read it. It is easily read for it is written in blood. Let us recur to recent history—pass by the more distant past—and speak only on events since the war."

Against the persistent efforts of the American representatives the Versailles treaty was made an instrument of war—of dismemberment, misery and war. Upon three different occasions the two leading nations of the old world financed an invasion of Russia in violation of every precept and principle of peace and in the face of the solemn pledges in favor of the principle of territorial integrity. Greece was incited to war and Turkey was nursed back into power—arms and money were furnished by outside governments with no other object in view than that of material gain and domain.

When two courses were open relative to reparations one of arbitration and adjustment either thru the league or a special conference of friendly powers, the other course, that of force and war was chosen, chosen in disregard of all consequences to peace and in defiance of the dictates of humanity. And tonight, the awful orgy of hate of destruction and crime proceeds on its bloody way, and not a foreign office in all Christendom is willing to record even a moral protest.

"During the last three years twelve countries of Europe have resorted to war to settle their disputes and to avenge their wrongs. The place, therefore, it seems to us for missionary work for peace, is not the United States but Europe."

NEXT STEP IN RAIL MERGER TO BE MADE

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, O., April 12.—Application to the interstate commerce commission for a certificate of public convenience and necessity to operate the lines in interstate commerce to issue capital stock and to exchange it for shares of the old companies on the basis set forth in the agreement of consolidation will be the next step in the merger of rival railroads controlled by the Van Sweringen interests. It was announced by Col. W. A. Colston, vice president and general counsel of the New York, Chicago & St. Louis railroad company here tonight.

Merger of the roads—the New York, Chicago and St. Louis, (Nickel Plate), the Toledo, St. Louis & Western (Clover Leaf) the Lake Erie & Western and two smaller subsidiaries—into the New Nickel Plate with a total mileage of 1,695 was completed with the filing of incorporation papers with the secretary of state for Ohio today. Similar action already had been taken in New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Illinois, other states in which the lines operate.

The merger has been approved by the public service commissions of New York and Pennsylvania and the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Approval by public service commissions in Ohio and Indiana is not necessary.

GOES TO FIGHT HABEAS CORPUS

(By The Associated Press)
St. Louis, Mo., April 12.—C. W. Clark, United States district attorney left today for New Orleans prepared to fight the habeas corpus proceedings instituted there by Ben L. Salinger, former official of the defunct Midland Packing company of Sioux City, Iowa, and to attempt to obtain Salinger's immediate return to Sioux City for trial on a charge of using the mails to defraud. The hearing in New Orleans is scheduled for April 20.

KALAMAZOO CHURCH RECTOR WAS SHOT AND KILLED LAST NIGHT

Slayer Was the Rev. Father Charles Dillon, Assistant Priest—Shooting Followed a Quarrel at the Dinner Table—Dillon Then Telephoned for the Police and the Coroner

(By The Associated Press)
KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 12.—The Rev. Charles Dillon, assistant rector of St. Augustine's Catholic church, shot and killed Rev. Father Henry O'Neill, rector of the church, as they sat at the dinner table tonight, then calmly went to the telephone and notified the police and coroner.

Dillon fired four shots, all of which took effect. As Father O'Neill fell dead, Dillon turned to the Rev. Father McCullough, the only witness of the tragedy, and handed him a phial containing holy oils, with the request that he administer the sacrament of extreme unction at once. According to a statement the assistant rector is said to have made to police and county officers, he was "driven to fury" by alleged ill-treatment at the hands of the dead priest.

"He treated me with disrespect ever since I came here thirteen months ago from Battle Creek," he is reported as having told the authorities. "He assumed toward me the attitude of a czar."

"He treated me as a little boy, refusing to permit me to visit the families of the parish, or take any part in the life of the parish. I protested in vain against his attitude and tonight, when we quarreled over the matter at the dinner table he ordered me to pack my belongings and get out."

"I got up from the table and went upstairs to pack up, but it was a revolver, not a suit case I packed. I picked up a phial of holy oil and then went downstairs where Father O'Neill and Father McCullough were eating. I intended to give him a chance to confess and to repent before I killed him but as I advanced into the room with the hand holding the revolver extended I saw him grab a salt cellar to throw at me and I fired twice. After that I do not recall very well what happened."

Rev. Father O'Neill was born at Hubbardston, Mich., about 56 years ago. He was a graduate of Assumption College, Sandwich, Ontario, and of the seminary at Baltimore. He was ordained 24 years ago and became pastor of St. Augustine's Nov. 1, 1921, succeeding the late Rev. Mgr. F. A. O'Brien.

Calmly discussing the shooting in the office of Chief of Police Ben Taffee tonight, Father Dillon said that for some time he had been prepared for such an ending to the long continued differences he said existed between him and the slain priest.

"At first thought, you'd think I was insane, but I'm not," he said. "I can go thru with all the mentality tests and they will show I am sane."

Rev. Father William Murphy of Detroit, who was in the city, has assumed temporary charge of the parish's affairs.

SANGAMON COUNTY BECAME REFORM CENTER THURSDAY

Banker Appointer Chief of Police Without Pay

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 12.—Sangamon county charged with many infractions of the moral code became a reform center from top to bottom today when a prominent church member was named chief of police for Springfield and all soft drink establishments in the rural districts were ordered by the board of supervisors to pay a heavy license fee. The cleanup program promised by Mayor Samuel E. Ballard, elected last week on a reform platform, was started today with the appointment of John E. George, a church worker and vice president of the First National bank to head the police department. He is to serve without pay.

Shortly after this announcement, the county board of supervisors voted to place under a license system all soft drink places in the county outside towns and villages. Rumors that many Springfield bootleggers, who it is said had been thriving under the old regime, were about to move to the country districts, led the board to this action, members said.

To support the new chief of police a new civil service commission in sympathy with the reform policies was named, consisting of Pascal E. Hatch, a banker, John A. Barked, lawyer and Fred Wapless, a real estate man. These men are prominent in business and church affairs, but have never before been identified with politics.

The new civic leaders of the capital city, selected from what is considered the best business and professional talent of the city, recruits in the political field, are opposed to the policies of the so-called Richard M. Sullivan faction, formerly in control, which they charge with responsibility for immoral conditions alleged to have existed in Springfield for years.

SOMEbody PAGE THE FOOL KILLER

(By The Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 12.—Miss Helen Mayer, 21, Cleveland saleswoman in the new marathon dancing champion of the world, establishing a new record here today of fifty-two hours and sixteen minutes. This breaks the record set in New York last Monday by Miss Alma Cummings, of fifty hours and two minutes, of two hours and fourteen minutes. Miss Mayer started dancing at 9:35 a. m., Tuesday, and finished at 1:51 p. m. today. She danced with seven partners making ten changes.

Two other couples who started dancing several hours after Miss Mayer dropped out this morning after dancing approximately twenty-eight hours. During her performance Miss Mayer wore out six pairs of stockings and four pairs of shoes, took seven rest periods of three minutes each, wore out three orchestras and four piano players and danced approximately fifty miles. At the conclusion of her endurance marathon Miss Mayer was examined by a physician who reported her limbs badly swollen but asserted "she would have good for four or five hours more. Her weight had dropped from 113 to 108 pounds."

A THOUGHT

The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice, and he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him.—Prov. 23:24.

The sacred books of the ancient Persians say: "If you would be holy instruct your children, because all the good acts they perform will be imputed to you."—Montesquieu.

The proposal that a tax shall fall to exercise the right of suffrage may not be legal. Nevertheless, there is merit in some proposal that will bring about greater interest in elections.

Participation of all legally qualified voters in elections would have a tendency to improve public service. In a majority of instances where inefficient or dishonest officials are elected to office it is because of the failure of good citizens to interest themselves in elections.

PROPOSE BLUE LAWS.

Senator McMurray on behalf of the Lord's day alliance has introduced a bill at Springfield which will prohibit all commercial forms of sport and entertainment on Sunday. The provisions of the proposed law are so strict that it is not likely that it will receive very hearty support. Such a measure by comparison with the prohibition law takes into account an entirely different set of facts.

The observance of Sunday is very largely a matter for individual conscience and the same rule for Sunday observance can hardly apply to all classes and conditions.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

PREPARATION

By Berton Braley

SHE'S sewing o' n' tiny garments.
The tiniest and softest (things);
And there is a light in my true live's eyes
Which only such labor brings;
And I watch her sewing, and in my heart
Is the pride of a dozen kings.

SHE'S sewing on little garments
And as she sews she dreams.
Filled with a vision of joy and hope,
Thrilled with her plans and schemes.
"And the light that was never on sea or land"
Over her features gleams.

SHE'S sewing on little garments
And the day of her trial is near.
Yet all her mood is the mood of joy
And never a hint of fear;
Oh, wife, may it all go well with you,
My dear, my dear, my dear!

tions. For example the automobile owner who takes a cross country run on Sunday with no thought of wrong doing may feel sadly shocked at the plans followed by some of his fellow citizens of smaller means in their efforts to make Sunday a day of rest and recreation. In other words, it is a very difficult matter with justice to tell "the other fellow" just what he should do or should not do on Sunday.

THE VALUE OF COURTESY.

The Kiwanis club, an organization of business men whose object is to disseminate the principles of fair dealing and practices and the observance of the Golden Rule in private, civic, social and business life, has designated the week of April 15 to 21 as Courtesy Week. Courtesy Week is designed by its proponents to emphasize the value of human courtesy, not as an abstract Sunday virtue, but as a practical seven-days-a-week business asset. It is intended that the Kiwanians during that week will by their own example encourage others to practice courtesy. The general plan as announced calls for the practice of courtesy in the homes, stores, offices, public conveyances and other places where persons meet. We are all prone to become so absorbed in our own thoughts and deeds that we do not take the time to think of others as we should. Usually we are too much in a hurry to stop and say "Please" and "Thank You" which are evidences of a thoughtful fullness for the feelings of others. Frequently we do not stop to say "Beg Your Pardon" when in our hurry we have collided with some person.

There is plenty of room in our business life for courtesy. Courtesy Week is good because courtesy, as a poet said, smooths the road of life. We need more of it everywhere, all the time.

REPUBLICANS CAN MAKE AN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN

"In the campaign of 1924 the Republican party will not be at any moment on the defensive. It has a constructive record to its credit and can justly 'point with pride' to its achievements," declares the Republican Publicity Association. The accomplishments of the Republican regime are thus enumerated in part:

"Taking charge of the economic policies of the nation at a time when there was great depression, particularly in agricultural industries, and when government securities were selling at a great discount, the Republican administration adopted and put into effect policies which have restored confidence in all lines of industry and have brought agriculture far on the road to normal. There is now work at good wages for all who desire it.

"This administration made a satisfactory peace with Germany. Disputed questions in the Pacific were amicably settled and an international agreement arrived at for the limitation of armaments. "The internal revenue laws were revised in such a manner as to reduce taxes for both the small taxpayer and the large taxpayer, diminishing the total tax upon the nation to the extent of approximately a billion dollars annually.

"A budget law was enacted under which revenues and expenditures are balanced and diminished appropriations from the Federal treasury are made possible.

"A Republican protective tariff law was enacted guarding American labor and American capital from disastrous competition with cheap products from abroad. "Undesirable immigration has been restricted; an extensive system of farm credits has been established; a great reduction has been made in the personnel of the army and navy; one hundred thousand civilian employees have been taken from the public payrolls; adequate provision has been made for hospitalization and rehabilitation for the veterans of the World war."

The Jacksonville Plan

Over in Springfield Mayor Bullard, recently elected, has named as chief of police Mr. George, a vice president of one of the largest banks in Springfield. The new chief is to serve without pay. Some other men of equal prominence have been appointed to help in the handling of municipal problems and are to accept this responsibility without salary.

While the same reasons do not bring about the no salary city government in Jacksonville, it is worthy of note that with the inauguration of Mayor Crabtree as a no salary mayor four years ago the Jacksonville came into a place of new prominence. The Jacksonville plan has without doubt given impetus to the movement in other cities, of which Springfield is one, to induce men of prominence and business leadership to take positions of responsibility in connection with their city government, not for the purpose of building up political organizations but with the end in view of giving the people a forward administration of their public affairs.

The four years during which

Mr. Crabtree has served are drawing to a close and he consented to become a candidate for re-election. Next Tuesday the people of Jacksonville are called upon to express their wishes as to whether or not he shall continue at the head of the city government for another two years. During the past four years a rare spirit of unanimity has pervaded the council chamber. Not all ideals have been reached but there can be no denying of the conscientious efforts to give Jacksonville a high class administration of its affairs. In this effort Mr. Crabtree has had the continuous co-operation of the council. Without exception the aldermen who have served have shown the "everything for the good of Jacksonville" spirit.

Next Tuesday consider the general record of the past four years. Take into account the quality of leadership that is offered in Mr. Crabtree's candidacy and then cast your ballot. Whatever you do don't fail to vote. The polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. With polling places as usual, Tuesday, April 17.

COMMENTS ON HOOVER'S SPEECH

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 12.—Commenting on Secretary Hoover's speech last night in Des Moines, Iowa, in which the commerce secretary advocated acceptance by the United States of conditional membership in the permanent court of international justice, Senator Borah, Republican of Idaho in a statement today declared that "we should either make it a court with some power to it, with some effect, or we should turn our attention exclusively to the questions which are troubling the American business man and the American farmer at this time. Mr. Hoover, he said, made a "fair and strong" presentation from the administration viewpoint of the advantages to be derived from joining the league, as indicated in his address that the only immediate effect of going into the court so far as getting results from the court is concerned is to pay a share of the running expenses of the court."

Referring to Secretary Hoover's statement that "all we do if we ratify President Harding's proposal is to promise to pay a share of the running expenses of the court and to take part in the choosing of the judges," Senator Borah asserted that "we cannot take part in the choosing of any judges until 1930 unless some one resigns or dies."

"When it is boiled down," the senator added, "the great boon to be devised is the opportunity to take a part of the running expenses of a little 'consent court' a court which has not been given jurisdiction over any vital matter because the European powers would not consent for it to have jurisdiction."

The roll call was responded to by each member telling a joke. Forty members and several guests were present. A donation of twenty-five towels was made to Oak Lawn sanatorium. A social hour was enjoyed after the meeting and delicious refreshments were served.

The next meeting will be held with Misses Margaret and Mary Tholen, May 10th.

Members of B. F. Lane's class in Grace church Sunday school enjoyed a banquet and program last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Williamson, 517 West College avenue. The class is made up of high school boys and girls and last night's affair was the culmination of a contest which has been waged since February 1 between the boys and girls of the class. The girls were able to make the best showing in the matter of attendance, collections and new members secured, so they were the guests of the boys last night.

There were thirty present and the evening was one of great enjoyment.

joyment for all of them. A fine supper was served at 7 o'clock by Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Lane, Mrs. G. A. Dunlap and Miss William Williamson.

After the supper there was a delightful musical program given by three young women from Illinois. Woman's college, Miss Clark, Miss Vick and Miss Pahl. Later there were games and contests of various kinds.

Each of the men will have as his guest tonight some boy of the city who is not in the habit of attending Sunday school, and it is expected that the company will number seventy-five or more. Following the supper there will be a brief program, and the evening is certainly to be one which the men and their guests will certainly enjoy.

J. J. Reeve is the teacher of the class and the general arrangements for the supper and entertainment have been in charge of J. W. Brecken, the class president.

Party is Given for Miss Winifred Butcher.

A going away party was given last night at the home of Prof. and Mrs. Roy F. Swift at their home on Mound avenue. The guest list included only a very few of the intimate friends of the guest of honor, and the evening was very pleasantly spent with games and dancing. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess during the evening.

Miss Butcher is to sail at an early date for England where she expects to spend a year or more, her grandmother accompanying her on the trip. The guests last night each gave Miss Butcher a steamer letter to be read during the voyage across.

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Women Wanted

Quick cooking—here it is Countless women have asked for an oat dish that cooks quickly. Now our experts have perfected it. Quick Quaker cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest cooking oats in the world.

Now your grocer has Quick Quaker as well as the regular.

Just smaller, thinner flakes

No change whatever in quality or flavor.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

In both you get that matchless flavor which has won the world to Quaker.

Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flaky oats. We get only ten pounds of these premier flakes from a bushel.

But that is why Quaker Oats dominates. Millions of mothers, in every clime, send overseas to get it.

You want your children to love oats. It is their food of foods. Then always get this super-flavor.

Get Quaker—Quick or regular—the style that you prefer.

Regular Quaker Oats

Come in package at left—the style you have always known.

Quick Quaker Oats

BURLINGTON HOTEL A BUSINESS SUCCESS

W. J. Brady Has Interesting Facts About Hotel in Iowa City—Stock for Addition Now Being Constructed in Sharp Demand

A friend of W. J. Brady has given him some interesting facts with reference to a hotel built in Burlington, Iowa, in 1911. Burlington is a city with a population of 24,000 and there are a number of hotels other than the one mentioned. When the Burlington hotel was erected twelve years ago the site cost $44,000 and the building $250,000.

It is a 125 room hotel and through its existence the company has paid the stockholders 5 per cent upon the stock and has held back one per cent as a sinking fund. The lessee of the hotel pays a rental sufficient to raise 6 per cent on the stock and he also pays the taxes and the repairs. The lessee is understood to have about $100,000 invested in the furnishings and equipment.

Mr. Brady saw the original subscription list for this hotel and found there were 133 subscribers who took sums varying from $500 to $13,500, and very few of the subscriptions were as small as $500.

The significant fact about this hotel at this time is that a large addition is now being built because of the growing business of the hotel, and every dollar of stock offered was quickly taken by those who hold the stock of the original building. Since the taxes on the building are paid by the lessee and the company is incorporated the stockholders have a non-taxable investment.

Based upon experience in Burlington, Mr. Brady is of the opinion that a 100 room hotel will be best for Jacksonville and cites instances at Muscatine, Creston and Keokuk, Iowa, where hotels were built of a size in excess of the possible business and so are somewhat of a burden instead of being a satisfactory investment.

BIG MERGER IN LOCAL AUTOMOBILE BUSINESS

Auto Inn to Pass Under Control of Strong Corporation—A. B. Smith, J. G. Berger and C. P. Joy Join Forces for Development of Various Lines of Auto Industry.

What may be termed a big merger in the automobile industry of Jacksonville will soon be announced, together with the formation of a $200,000 corporation. While all the details have not been completed, it was stated unofficially yesterday that the Auto Inn, of which A. B. Smith is the proprietor, the Berger Motor Co., and the C. P. Joy garages are to be the principal factors in this combined business enterprise.

It will be remembered that Mr. Smith, whose home has been in Peoria, recently leased from Howard Zahn the Auto Inn property for a long period of years.

Mr. Joy has for years been at the head of a garage repair business where service of the best quality has been available and the Berger Motor Co. has an established reputation as an auto sales agency.

Mr. Smith, Mr. Berger and Mr. Joy have been in conference for weeks looking toward a combination of the three general lines of business all related to the automobile industry, with the belief that the need exists here for a centralized plant which can provide the public the best of service in any of the three departments. It is the belief of these men that the three lines operated together will show a development and growth that would not be possible as long as the departments or lines are operated separately.

It is understood that while the Joy garage is to be a part of the new corporation, and Mr. Joy is to be at the head of the mechanical department, that the garage and repair shop will be continued in the present location on West Court street. However, the Berger Motor Co. stock will be moved to the Auto Inn and Mr. Berger will be at the head of the sales department of the business.

The complete line of accessories that Mr. Joy has handled will be taken to the Auto Inn to augment the stock carried there. It will be the purpose of Mr. Smith and his associates to carry a stock of accessories as large as any that can be found in Illinois outside of Chicago. The public generally knows that the Auto Inn is built on a large and substantial scale. The owner of the building did not spare money anywhere in its construction and today there is not a better garage building in all Illinois. The spaciousness of the building and the type of construction will make it possible to offer the best possible in storage service to car owners.

Ideal of Service. The ideal of the men who are joining in this enterprise is to furnish the very best service in every department at the lowest cost consistent with good business principles. It is the hope of these men that they can not only develop a business which will be profitable to them, but one also that will add to the good name and reputation of Jacksonville.

As indicated, there are very few cities in this or adjoining territory where a building of the size or quality of the Auto Inn is available. Mr. Smith has for eleven years been district distributor for the R. M. Hollingshead Co., one of the oldest manufacturers of automobile accessories in the country. He has charge of the company offices in Peoria, St. Louis and Des Moines, with 40 or 50 agencies under his supervision. It is Mr. Smith's intention to continue his present position for the remainder of this year, although he will be in Jacksonville frequently and expects to establish his home here in the course of a very few weeks. After January first all of his time will be devoted to the affairs of the Jacksonville business concern in which he is an important factor.

Name Not Selected. It can be said in passing that the name of the corporation has not yet been determined. Mr. Smith has impressed Jacksonville men he has met with the belief that he is of a type this city needs and will be a desirable addition to the business life.

Mr. Berger is a long time resident of the county and has an established reputation for fairness and all that is most dependable with the automobile sales service. His company is now handling the Willys-Knight and Overland cars and it is possible that the combined company may handle a new line of cars in addition to these.

Mr. Joy is also a Morgan county product and while he was away from the city for a period of years in mechanical work he has been in his home city for a still longer period and is recognized as not only a skilled mechanic with a fine background of mechanical education, but is in addition a successful business man.

The new company has employees schooled in the important matter of giving the public real service, and it is the purpose that other employees added from time to time shall be men with the same spirit.

In this connection it can be mentioned that the full details for the handling of the Auto Inn dancing pavilion have not been outlined. It is known, however, that various betterments and refinements in the way of furnishings will be introduced and that this department will be operated in such a way that it will have the approval of the general public. If this development is not made all the social features will

HEALTH MEETING WAS HIGHLY INTERESTING

Nursing Demonstrations and Dental Talks Attracted Good Crowd Last Night—Dr. A. D. Black Explained Dental Hygiene Service—Physicians at Clinic Numbered Forty-five

The public meeting held last night at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Morgan County Medical society, was well attended. A large number of nurses from Passavant hospital were present in uniform, and took part from time to time during the evening in demonstrations of trained nursing. The demonstration lectures were given by Miss Aida Langley, superintendent of the training school. She gave many practical suggestions on the value of training in the nursing profession, and explained the various parts of the work as they were presented in the improvised hospital ward on the stage. Beds and all the necessary equipment were in use, and young ladies from the school acted as subjects, as well as nurses, in the demonstrations.

Dr. C. M. Jack of Decatur read a paper on "Focal Infection and Its Relation to Public Health." The next speaker was Dr. A. D. Black of Chicago, who spoke on "Dental Hygiene Service in a Community." In opening his address, Dr. Black recalled his early school days in Jacksonville mentioning the various buildings in which he attended grade and high school here. He was a pupil in the first ward building on East North street, and attended the seventh grade in a remodeled residence on Anna street. He later attended high school in the fourth ward building. He congratulated the citizens on the new high school and expressed the hope that the old grade school buildings could soon be replaced with new and modern plants.

The speaker showed how the first experiment with dental hygiene in the schools of Bridgeport, Conn., had proved successful. The work was introduced gradually in the school system among the 20,000 pupils. The activities and fillings in the teeth of children of the sixth grade in the schools were counted. Then the training started with children of the first grade and year by year dental hygienists were added to the staff as the work was carried along into the higher grades. The system was introduced in 1912, and when in 1918, the children who had received the training an attention given by the hygienists, had reached the sixth grade, it was found that the number of cavities and fillings in their teeth had been reduced by fifty per cent as compared with children in the same grade six years before. It was also found that the amount and number of communicable diseases in the city among children had been reduced to a marked degree. Death rates from diphtheria, measles and scarlet fever were cut in half and even more reduced during this period.

The dental hygienist, Dr. Black said, is a young woman who has received at least a year of training in her work. She teaches the children the value of care and cleanliness of the mouth; she teaches them how to care for the teeth by tooth brush drills and other devices; she cleans the teeth of the children with orange sticks and pumice stone. Dr. Black urged his address with the plea that the dental hygiene service might be established in a small way in the schools of this city.

The clinic at Our Saviour's hospital Thursday morning was attended by about forty-five physicians from the city and surrounding communities. The afternoon session was held at the Health school, following a luncheon at the high school cafeteria. Children from the school and from other schools of the system were subjects for clinical work. The session was arranged by Dr. R. V. Brokaw, county health officer.

Mount Your Trusty Stilts for the Tournament

(Play experts from all over North America send in their newest ideas to The Fun Maker. Regular readers of The Fun Maker will learn about all sorts of games and stunts just as soon as they are invented.)

Springtime is stilt time. Of course when you've made a new pair of stilts and have learned to walk around on them so well that you've forgotten how it feels to fall off, you will want to show the other fellows just how much better you can handle stilts than they can. That's where a stilt contest comes in.

Mr. T. J. Smegalski, Superintendent of Recreation in West Chicago, has written The Fun Maker about a contest which a group of "stilt-fans" in his neighborhood put on.

First, they had an obstacle race. On the race course were three or four rows of barrels, one barrel in each row for each racer, the rows being about fifteen feet apart. The boys lined up, and at the signal they mounted and started down the course. When they came to the first row of barrels they dismounted and crawled through, dragging the stilts behind them. On the other side they mounted again and proceeded to the next obstacles, the object being to see who could get through first. There was great excitement when some of them got stuck and had to be pulled out.

Put on Pass Ball Contest

For the next game the boys formed two teams. Each team formed a line of boys on stilts, the boys being ten feet apart. The boy at the head of each line started passing a basketball down the line. Each boy was supposed to catch it with out getting off his stilts and pass it on to the next player. Once a boy got off his stilts he was out of the game. The side keeping the most boys in won.

In addition, there were some single contests. The boys walked chalk lines, skipped rope, stepped sideways, brought the upper ends of the stilts to touch, and walked backwards, without falling from the stilts.

For a windup they formed two teams and had an exciting tug of war.

The boys in West Chicago intend to make their stilt contest an annual affair. Why not hold a "First Annual" in your own neighborhood?

(Next week The Fun Maker will describe "Swat," a favorite with Boy Scouts.)

SEED CORN

THE COLUMBIANA FARMS AT ELDRED, ILLINOIS, Greene County, again have carefully selected and tested seed corn of strong germination for the Spring of 1923, which they produced in 1922, from DISEASE FREE SEED CORN, purchased from the FUNK BROTHERS SEED COMPANY at $10.00 per bushel. This corn is Yellow Dent, called Utility Type. The medium, smooth, well matured ears will give higher yields and better quality than the rough starchy corn which is later in maturity, lighter in weight, with inferior root development, more barren stalks, and has less vitality to resist unfavorable weather.

The corn will be distributed to farmers in Morgan County, Illinois.

LINCOLN SERVICE

The satisfaction to be derived from the operation of an automobile is in direct proportion to its quality, the facilities provided for its maintenance and the care which it receives. Only when these elements are well balanced does the purchase of a motor car become a good investment.

Lincoln owners know that Lincoln cars in ordinary usage demand little attention other than the replenishment of gasoline, oil and water. That is because the service requirements of motor cars are in inverse ratio to the quality and character built into them by the manufacturers.

Periodic inspection, proper lubrication and minor adjustments, when necessary, are essential to the proper and prolonged functioning of any piece of machinery. With quality as a prime factor, it is the secret of economical and dependable transportation.

To insure the operation of Lincoln cars as a source of uninterrupted satisfaction and enjoyment, through the medium of adequate and convenient service facilities, it is the purpose of the Ford Motor Company that its entire dealer organization be equipped to render efficient and intelligent service to Lincoln owners.

Thousands of Ford Dealers in the United States are being equipped with specially trained Lincoln men, competent to make minor adjustments and of providing for ordinary service requirements.

Under this arrangement, a Lincoln owner, whether touring a continent or crossing his own city, may with confidence enter a Ford Dealer's place of business and be assured of prompt, courteous and intelligent treatment by an organization with a personal interest in his welfare.

It is not intended, or necessary, that all Ford Dealers be equipped to do major repair work or overhauling on Lincoln cars. Adequate provision is made, however, whereby such work will be done in each territory, when necessary, by dealers who are especially equipped to render high grade service in keeping with the character of the product.

We believe that the Lincoln will run farther and require less mechanical attention than any other car in the world. It is significant and a matter of utmost importance to prospective owners of quality cars that the incomparable, world-wide facilities of the Ford Motor Company should make the ownership of a Lincoln even more desirable than ever before.

S. W. Nichols Writes Another Letter From Tucson

No. 119 East First Street, Tucson, Ariz., April 3, Dear Journal:

Tucson has been favored with a visit from Secretary Wallace, one of the able men President Harding has gathered about him in the conduct of the administration. The gentleman has been especially honored by the agricultural department of the state university and has made golden opinions regarding himself during his visit. As a mark of the favor in which the gentleman is held in the university the degree of Doctor of Science in Agriculture was conferred on him by the regents and officials of the great institution and the occasion was one of much importance.

First there was a convocation of the faculty open to the public on university grounds after a procession was formed in the main agricultural building and marched to the decorated porch. Sec. Wallace marching with President Marvin of the university and followed by the regents, former regents and faculty.

At the porch "America" was sung after which President Marvin said:

"It is our good fortune to have with us the Henry C. Wallace who has come among us that he might know his tasks in a more intimate manner. He has been traveling about the state for three days that he might have before him the things he needs in planning the development of this district of the United States. We regard him as the Father of Agriculture in our land and take pleasure in presenting him to you."

The secretary acknowledged the courtesy shown him and referred to the great work of the department. He said that his department came in contact with the people in road building, reforestation and agriculture. The department employs nineteen thousand men the greater part of whom are experts seeking at all times to advance the welfare of the tillers of the soil. Then there are meat inspectors, food and drug officials and inspectors in packing houses all safeguarding the welfare of the people. He said that terrible forces let loose by the world war had made the problem of the department doubly hard. The days he had spent in Arizona had been truly inspirational and he would back to his duties with a better idea of the needs, assets and problems of the state than he ever had before. He had traveled widely through other states and in all ways had endeavored to get in touch with the men who raise our food and are an important element in the great commonwealth.

He spoke enthusiastically regarding the great courtesy shown him and dwelt at length on the vast resources of the state both in minerals and agricultural products.

Dean Thorner, head of the agricultural department of the university then recommended the distinguished visitor for the degree of Doctor of Science in Agriculture and referred to him as "farmer, editor, scientist, author, teacher, agriculture investigator and a most eminent citizen."

President Marvin of the university then presented the diploma and conferred the degree and the distinguished visitor remarked that it was of social interest thus to be honored. He had received a like honor from the University of Maryland, probably the oldest in the country, and now the youngest was conferring on him the honor again. It was not only the youngest but in many ways the most progressive of all.

He said he should reap the benefit of the increment as the institution will bring increasing glory to it as the years go on.

The secretary has been kept busy by the chamber of commerce and various organizations who have sought to entertain him and show him honor and he has been lost in his praise of the state, the city and the many people whom he has met.

I was quite impressed by an article in one of the city papers recently. It was headed: "Yet They Called Arizona Country That God Forgot." and then it went on to point some press telegrams.

New York was shivering in the coldest March weather on record. Through the state the mercury dropped from ten to thirty degrees below.

Pittsburg. The coldest day in the history of the weather bureau.

Detroit. The upper half of lower Michigan and all the upper part was in the grip of the severest weather. Worse than any experienced during the winter.

Tucson. Balm for weeks, skies clear; people going about in their shirt sleeves and everybody happy.

This locality certainly has some things of which it can boast and one of them is the head lettuce grown in the Imperial valley where thousands of acres are devoted to the purpose and certainly it is the most delicious article of the kind I ever tasted. In one day the Southern Pacific railroad shipped out 167 car loads of lettuce and it wasn't specially good day for lettuce either. Experts have been comparing Arizona products with those of other states and claim much superiority for the home production. I saw an extensive grower of peaches and he said his fruit had been analyzed in Washington and showed 37 per cent more sugar than the same fruit grown in California had.

Arizona and Kansas sweet potatoes were compared with results in favor of the home vegetable while cabbage from Old Mexico, oranges from California, olives, pickles and various articles showed all in favor of the home products. Several young ladies from the state university have been conducting these experiments and have aroused much interest in the subject.

Not many miles from Tucson are the Casa Grande ruins which are of great interest. Archaeologists pronounce them well nigh a thousand years old and a monument of a vanished race. Many thousand tourists visit them annually as they are easily accessible.

Explorations show that communal houses were sometimes built on the ruins of other like structures. The National Geographic society is fitting out an expedition to excavate and explore the ruins more at length and many things of interest will likely be developed.

Many modern authorities think that Padre Kino was the first white man to visit the ruins as he was there in 1694 having made a special journey to inspect them. While there the pious padre said mass and a halo of glory has obtained there since. In 1736 and 1737 Padre Ignacio Keller visited the ruins which were again honored by holy ceremonies. Southwestern Arizona abounds in ruins and many scenes of interest to students of history and several tours are being planned to visit them.

The most accessible is the old San Xavier Mission not far from this city. This grand old pile is well worth a visit. It is on an Indian Reservation and there the dusky children of the forest go to worship the Great Spirit in spirit and in truth. It is very old but has been renovated on the exterior and presents a peculiar appearance.

Within the ancient character of the place is well revealed. There is an old oil painting of a biblical scene while the altar and all about the place are relics of days long gone by. Devoutly the worshippers kneel on the stone floor and offer their prayers to the Master while the priest seeks their welfare in every way.

A pious sisterhood teach and look after affairs generally and offer for sale various desirable articles as well as pictures of the church and surrounding country. A very passable auto road takes one to an observation point from which a fine view of the surrounding country may be had.

Beyond this are the Twin Buttes, ancient Tumacacori Mission with Nogales not far away. Returning the tourist takes in a number of interesting towns along the way.

Another direction from Tucson are Casa Grande Highway, Post Project, Picture Rocks, Sunrise Rocks, Papago Indian reservation where one may see the noble red man in his primitive state and very interesting. Then Fort Lowell, Bear Canyon, Deer Canyon and a host of other attractions are being brought to light and explored making fine outing trips indulged in by many who have a few days leisure and a love for the wild and romantic.

Roosevelt dam is one of the great assets of the state. It has cut both ways. Phoenix is no longer the resort for ailing ones that it was owing to the fact that the great body of water so near by has deprived the atmosphere of the dryness which is Arizona's greatest asset and justly so. However, the project has reclaimed a vast amount of land and made it good for farming and, being well blocked with fish, it is much sought by disciples of Isaac Walton who already are telling the usual big stories of great catches of bass and other finny denizens of the deep.

Great disappointment is felt over the refusal of the legislature of this state to ratify the Colorado river pact as it is felt that the enterprise would have been of such vast benefit to the state. As I am a guest perhaps it will not be good taste for me to go into particulars regarding the motives of the powers that be.

S. W. Nichols.

The High-Grade Gasoline

Better Than Ever

There is an erroneous idea abroad. You hear it every day. "Gasoline is not as good as it used to be." The fact is that the Red Crown Gasoline you are getting today is an almost perfect fuel.

Perhaps there is no industry where progress has made such rapid strides as the refining of petroleum.

For example, we cite the Burton Process, developed and perfected in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). The Burton Process has enabled the refiner to bring gasoline to a point of efficiency hitherto un hoped for.

Red Crown Is Made by the Burton Process

Red Crown vaporizes to the last drop. There is no waste—it produces instant starting Winter or Summer—a quick get-away—a smooth running engine—tremendous sustained pulling power and racing speed if you want it.

GOOD PROFITS IN KEEPING BEES

The New Orleans Times-Picayune in a recent issue has an illustrated article written by E. S. Davis, who is a specialist at bee culture at Louisiana State university. Mr. Davis, who is a brother of Stanley I. Davis of this city, wrote the article under the caption "Keeping of Honey Bees is full of fascination as well as rich in returns of quick profit."

In addition to the picture of Mr. Davis as view is presented of the plant of the S. L. Sexton Apiary Co., at Atchafalaya post-office, Louisiana, where the last "crop" of honey amounted to 135 barrels.

An introduction to the article by Mr. Davis is preceded by several paragraphs of explanation by W. D. Robinson. The paragraphs from the article are as follows:

By W. D. Robinson.

"How would you like to engage in a legitimate business that would yield 100 per cent profit? You may answer that it sounds impossible and that it can't be done. Listen to this: 'E. C. Davis, specialist in bee culture of the Louisiana State university, is authority for the statement that it can be done and is being done. What is more, Mr. Davis says there are men and women in Louisiana who are getting rich at the business. That business is the bee business. 'Mr. Davis cites concrete cases showing profits in apiaries. Incidentally, he gives some interesting information showing how the busy little bees have increased the yield of crops by spreading pollen.'

"Mr. Davis says: 'Why not take a bee line to prosperity? There is no more fascinating way nor a more lucrative way than along the honey bee route.

"Suppose you expected to take a vacation and visit a far distant state. Would you select a scenic route, where every turn of the road brought new changes, filled with thrills and joys, or would you go over a route where nothing but dull monotony reached your eyes? Of course you would take the former route, wouldn't you? Then, in selecting a business where there is only a small outlay of money to begin with, why not take up bee culture?

Beekeeping is a real sport, and at times is of the most exciting nature. If you understand bee behavior, you may handle them with the least number of stings. In fact, I have gone thru as many as 2,500 colonies of bees in a week's time, and have done every thing that could possibly be done to the bees, and with all this up-setting of hives had only two stings.

"The secret of success in any line is in knowing how to do it. It applies to beekeeping as well as to any other business. 'There are many failures in beekeeping because the person in charge lacks the knowledge for doing for the bees what should be done for them at certain seasons of the year. There are times when every hive needs your help. If you neglect them at this time, failure is sure to follow.

"A strong colony of bees on the Louisiana State university campus at Baton Rouge stored for me 219 pounds of honey in twenty-one days last spring, and I saw another colony with a hive ten stories high which contained 400 pounds of honey.

"Beekeeping is like any other business. To make a success of it, you must have a fair amount of intelligence and business judgment, and then it is up to you to either succeed or fail. Many men start in business of some kind for themselves. Some grow into large proportions, while others drop out of business altogether—just can't succeed because they are not capable of doing so. That is the key to the situation.

"There are thousands of beekeepers in the United States who are making large incomes yearly from their bees. I know of one man in Louisiana who financed a beekeeper, he to receive half the profits. This man in three years' time drew out of the business $9,500. The entire outlay of this apiary was less than $3,000. Beekeeping is a business which will pay for the entire outlay of hives, bees, etc., 100 per cent of the investment each year, if handled properly. There is hardly anything else which will do as well."

ACTION RESCINDED BY STUDENT ASSOCIATION

Illinois College Organization Rescinds Its Action of Recent Date About Against the Points System for Outside Activities

The Illinois College Student Association held a very interesting meeting Thursday morning. The president of the student association instructed the committee in charge of general discussion to gather statistics and report at a future meeting. If possible the idea is to set a maximum and minimum of outside activities, including athletics, literary societies, glee club, dramatic club and debating teams.

Much interest in the project is being shown by the students, especially among the boys. This is the first time this year that the meeting lasted the full period allotted for that purpose.

"LISTEN TO ME" - A MUSICAL HIT

Theatregoers who are alert to appreciate merit in a musical score will quickly realize why Le Conte and Fletcher's new extravaganza, "Listen to Me," coming to the Grand next Monday night, April 16th was successful from the opening performance. Independent of the fact that "Listen to Me" carries an excellent cast supported by a youthful chorus that can dance and sing, an exquisite display of scenic splendor, marvelous novelties, gorgeous costumes, and an absorbing fantastic story beautifully unfurled, is the reality that its score of musical gems is a theme of critical admiration. "Listen to Me" has been lauded broadcast by all. Some have admired its spectacular wonders, others have admired the lavish array of scenery and costumes, others highly praising the cast and chorus, while many have been thrown into ecstasy over the beautiful fantastic story, but all have worshipped the score of ethereal musical gems.

Those who enjoy artistic grandeur in all its rapture can drink to their fill when "Listen to Me" with all its gorgeousness will be presented in this city.

SIGHT RESTORED BY NEW EYELIDS

Committee on Charities Greatly Impressed When Members Visit
State Eye and Ear Infirmary
in Chicago

SPRINGFIELD.—The case of a girl who has undergone the remarkable experience of having her sight restored to normal by new eyelids, impressed the house of representatives committee on charities and corrections when the committee visited the State Eye and Ear Infirmary in Chicago.

The physicians in charge decided the only way to save the girl's eyesight would be by grafting new eyelids. This fact of plastic surgery was accomplished in nine operations and the lids were so skillfully attached just beneath the eye brows that the operation is scarcely discernible, it is said. The new lids respond to muscular movement as well as natural lids, the physicians say.

"The result was wonderful," stated the committee's report. "It is almost beyond the comprehension of the layman."

"The members of the committee," the report continued, "also were particularly impressed by the restoration of eyesight to a young woman who had been blind virtually from infancy. The bandages were removed on Christmas Day, 1922, and she told the members of the committee that day was and always would be the happiest day of her life. She is now not only able to see but to read printed matter in large type."

During the last year, 70,000 patients were treated for eye trouble and fitted with glasses at the infirmary. Glasses are furnished free of charge to those unable to pay for them. A day school for children who are under treatment has been established by the Chicago board of education in co-operation with the state department of public welfare.

SHANKEN'S

MOURNS LACK OF GOOD FOOD AND LIGHT

LONDON.—Sunlight and milk, says a medical writer in the Times, constitute the greatest panacea for the ills of the human race of the present day. He declares that the next important task of public health authorities is to arouse and apply a public opinion and an effective public demand for the adequate restoration of sunlight and milk to the urban population of the world.

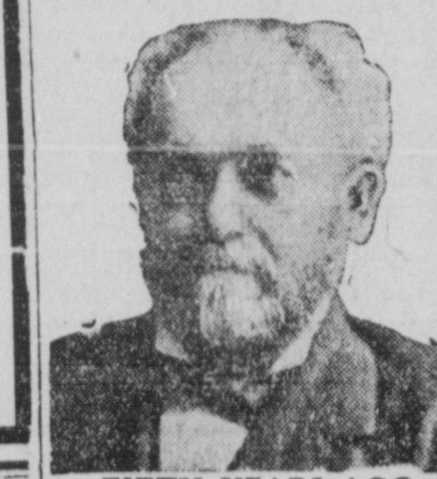

"These two mighty agents of nutrition," he says, "are closely related and complementary. Our national supply of both, as compared to the United States, for instance, is deplorable, quantitatively and qualitatively. In some degree this may be due to inevitable geographical necessity; but in a large degree it is due to our own negligence and ignorance."

We must drink more milk, enjoins this writer. He says the people of England are impossibly handicapped, industrially and otherwise, by the fact that the per capita consumption of milk is one-third that in the United States. "Monstrous machinery exists," he says, "to persuade the public to drink beer, for which no authoritative physiologists living has a good word."

The medical expert then says no one will deny the potency of sunlight as an agent in curing disease, and he makes a plea to the British authorities to stamp out what he calls "the disease of darkness," and restore England's black cities and blighted citizens to their place in the sun.

"We are not only badly housed, with infamous slums," he observes, "but our national source of power is soft coal, our barbaric combustion of which renders our cities the darkest on earth. Thanks to our urbanization, our industrialization, and our neglect of agriculture, we are very poorly supplied with those fresh and natural foods which abound in vitamins. It is time we learned the value of milk and sunlight. They are more needed by us than any nation on earth."

A young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who finally made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and moving to Buffalo, N. Y., put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every state.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womankind. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged-down by weakness of her sex—a woman is quickly restored to health by its use. Thousands of women testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has entirely eradicated their distressing ailments.

More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called An-uric (for kidneys and backache), has been successfully used by many thousands who write Dr. Pierce of the benefits received—that their backache, rheumatism, and other symptoms of uric acid deposits in joints or muscles have been completely conquered by its use.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. of any of his remedies, or write for free medical advice. (adv.)

SONS OF VETERANS TO EXTEND WORK

Organization Is Seeking to Form
More Camps to Take Over S.
A. R. Work

(By Sons of Veterans Secretary.)
With the near approach of Memorial Day the thoughts of thousands of patriotic citizens turn to that rapidly diminishing band of patriots—the Grand Army of the Republic—which instituted the beautiful custom, long since become a well-nigh universal ceremonial.

This splendid society of soldiers and sailors who participated on the Union side of the great Civil War was organized in Decatur, Ill., April 6, 1866, by a little band of young veterans and soon spread rapidly, new Posts springing up in all the northern states. So far as known Col. John M. Snyder, of Canton, Ill., Post Department Commander of the Illinois G. A. R., is the last survivor who formed the first Post and worked out the first ritual. Memorial Day was first set apart in 1868, when General John A. Logan of Illinois, then Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R., designated May 30 of each year as "a day set apart for the decoration of the graves of soldiers and sailors." The next year Congress made the day a national holiday and today it is observed, not only in America, but throughout the civilized world where Americans chance to be.

but the ranks of the Grand Army are growing thinner each year. The organization attained its highest membership in 1890 when it numbered 409,489 on its rolls. Its membership today is less than 70,000. Soon the last remnant of this noble army will be gathered home.

Upon Whom Will Their Mantles Fall?

This is a question worth while. If it is left to the Grand Army itself the answer has already been made. Twice, in as many National Conventions in recent years, the "Boys in Blue" have expressed the wish and the hope that their mantles may fall upon their sons—their own flesh and blood—the organization of Sons of Veterans.

In many places Camps of Sons of Veterans have long since taken over the patriotic work of the Grand Army and are going forward with determination and vigor. This has pleased the Veterans and it is the wish of those remaining that there be a Camp of Sons of Veterans wherever there is or has been a Post of the G. A. R.

If you are the son or grandson of a Civil War veteran you ought to be interested in helping form a Son of Veterans Camp in your city. There is a great work for this organization and you should be willing to give your assistance. The cost is small and the opportunities boundless.

Would you be willing to assist in the formation of a Camp in your city? If so send your name and address to A. S. Holbrook, Division Secretary, Dwight, Ill., for particulars. Do it today while it is on your mind.

Betrothal-Marriage

And the Emblems that Mark Two of Life's Greatest Moments

The diamond solitaire long has been considered as the only proper betrothal ring, but it now is quite different from the one mother or grandmother so highly prized. They now are set in the modern platinum and the white gold, more rich and lovely, but no higher in price. And the wedding ring is beautiful to behold and to own, in the white and colored golds bearing the wondrous orange blossom and other designs.

Won't you let us show you these rings?

NEW YORK, April 12.—Today's stock market opened irregular, turned down on a substance of selling pressure on the oil group and then strengthened materially in response to a buying demonstration in rubber, independent steel and a few selected industrials. Other financial and commodity markets also showed an improved tone of which corn and sugar prices mounting to new high records for the year, while cotton opened strong but forfeited a good part of its gain before the close.

Failure of the averages to break thru their lows of last week and the relatively small amount of forced liquidation resulting from the recent professional attacks convinced many investors that the recent movement was in progress for several days, had run its course.
Most of the large commission houses advised buying of select stocks on today's reaction and many of these sources were reported in the late dealings.

Call money opened at 5 per cent, eased off to 4 1/2 during the noon hour and then to four where it closed. Short term loans were arranged at 5 1/2 per cent but bankers are still holding out for 5 1/2 for the longer maturities. Commercial paper was in fair demand with prime names selling at 5 and 5 1/2 per cent.

Foreign exchanges held fairly steady.
Bond prices moved irregularly in today's relatively dull market.
The trend was uncertain and changes generally were unimportant.
Active U. S. Government
bonds showed firmness but fluctuations were small.

THREE SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM AT KIWANIS

Dr. F. L. Fletcher, Miss Anne Jackson and Dr. A. D. Black Address Club at Meeting Thursday — Courtesy is Most Important Theme.

The subject of Courtesy was ably discussed at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club Thursday by Rev. E. L. Fletcher. The speaker emphasized the value of courtesy in the home, in business, with the children and in many other phases of modern life. He told of how the exercise of courtesy wins happiness and greatness for the individual.

Miss Anne Jackson gave the club a very humorous and entertaining talk on the birds of this section of the country. She gave an account of the common birds which are seen in the yards of Jacksonville homes, and told in an entertaining way of her experiences in bird raising.

ing. She has successfully raised thirteen baby robins, a blue jay, and several other birds of various kinds.

Dr. Arthur D. Black of Chicago, dean of Northwestern Dental school, was one of the most important speakers on the program. He gave a history of dentistry from the time of the first dental school at Baltimore, to the present. It was at first difficult to get the school men to see the value of trained dentists, and the first schools in that profession had rough going. They were, for the most part, privately owned and were money making propositions. Later, however, dental schools were established in connection with the large state universities. There are now thirty-five such schools in the United States, and only fourteen private institutions.

Educational Dentistry.

In the last few years, dentistry had become less of a reparatory profession and more educational. Since the establishment of dental clinics in the schools, the cavities in teeth and general decay of the teeth among the people have been reduced fifty per cent. The modern dentist devotes much of his time to teaching people how to care for the teeth.

The decrease in the prevalence of defective teeth among children was noted during the six years clinics were maintained in the schools of certain cities. The children were taken in hand in the first grade, and kept under observation until well along in the grades. A decided decrease in the number of defective teeth was observed in three children who had received the proper instruction in the care of the teeth.

A stunt on the program which afforded the Kiwanians much entertainment was the presentation of a large loving cup to F. E. Farrell in honor of his twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The cup was made of tin and was of enormous size. C. Y. Rowe, president of the club, made the presentation speech.

The address of Dr. Fletcher on courtesy was of interest to all present. He said in part:

Courtesy vs. Gruffness.

Way back in the olden days—so the story goes—there was a dispute between the sun and the wind as to whether courtesy or gruffness was the more influential factor in human affairs. The wind claimed that gruffness would win, but the sun argued in favor of courtesy and good will. A traveler wearing an overcoat was selected as the one on whom to make the test.

The wind tried to blow the coat off. It failed, and then blew more briskly. The coat was buttoned up by the man and the wind, becoming angry, blew a gale. The man drew up his big collar and defied the force of the wind. Finally the wind acknowledged defeat.

The sun smiled upon the man and he lowered his collar. The sun sent courteous sunbeams to the man, who was so warmed that he unbuttoned his coat. As the sun continued its course, the man looked up brightly and removed his coat. Courtesy and good will won where gruffness failed.

How much less busy would divorce courts be if husbands were more courteous to their wives—if they continued to court them after marriage as they did before? And what shall we say of the wives? Why cannot they be as courteous to their lovers after they have promised "to love, honor and ——" as before that great day? Courtesy wins before marriage, and it will and does win after marriage, if when and where practiced.

Will some economist please estimate the financial value to a city or town that becomes known as one in which the residents are courteous? "Please" and "Thank You" are easily said if the saying of them becomes a habit. But before the habit of courtesy is formed, there must be real thought given to the subject. To give thought to anything takes time, and time is what most of us think we are short of, hence our rushing hither and thither. And in our rushing we easily become discourteous. Why not be as courteous all the year as we are around Christmas? It is not the gifts we receive that make Christmas a time of good cheer. It is, rather, the thought and time we expend in spreading good cheer. Our personalities during the Christmas season become broadcasting stations of the Christmas spirit, and we are thus tuned in harmony with all the beautiful things of life.

Acorns of courtesy in business usually develop into oaks of financial return. This is because people are appreciative of courtesy in business, though they themselves may lack it.

Even the big corporations, called soulless not so many years ago, are requiring of all their officers and other employees that they be courteous in their attitude to the public—meaning us. No longer do wise corporation officials assume "the public-be-damned" attitude. Applying one of the popular expressions of the times: "Them days are gone forever." Some of the greatest diplomats of the present time are not in the employ of the governments of the world, but are the directors of the public relations departments of big corporations.

Retail stores doing business with the general public usually assume the attitude that the customer is always right in every controversy. Some unthinking, overbearing person may take advantage of such a liberal policy, but most people respond to such courtesy and not only continue their own patronage, but get others to patronize such stores. The larger the store, the more courtesy may be found therein. The large business invariably is the result of good values given with fine courtesy.

The Golden Rule Applied.

What is the Golden Rule but an admonition to be courteous? Here it is: "Whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets." Was there ever a man who put this into practice who became unhappy in the practice? Let him who doubts it, testify. That Good Samaritan who became immortal—hasn't been happier since the rest of his life because of his courtesy to the unfortunate traveler who needed him on that road to Jericho. He took the time to treat the unconscious man as he himself wished to be treated, were he in that helpless condition. It was a practical application of the Golden Rule—an example of courteous neighborliness. The "Go and do thou likewise" comes down to this generation with all the eloquence of the Great Teacher who told the story and enunciated the Cloverleaf Pictures Growth and Equipment to Visiting Managers—All Ready for Opening of Two Day Program of Convention this Morning—List of Company Officers and Managers is Given.

All is in readiness for the annual convention of the Industrial Managers of the Cloverleaf Casualty Co., which will open in this city this morning. At noon today the members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs will be guests of the Cloverleaf at luncheon in the Odd Fellows temple. The laying of the corner stone of the new home office building will be staged immediately following the luncheon and program.

One of the interesting features of the convention is the preparation of an exhibit of the company's growth and activities in one of the rear rooms of the Cloverleaf offices. The exhibit consists of maps, pictures, charts, and samples of printed matter used and published by the company.

Large map of the United States shows the territory now worked by the company's agents, and also the states in which the business is to be pushed during this year. The new states to be entered are South Dakota, Wisconsin, Kentucky, New Jersey, Delaware and Louisiana. Near this map is hung a chart showing the increase of the annual premium accruing to the company since 1912, when the annual receipts from premiums were only $75,000, until 1922, when they were $1,144,000.
